- Open to all ILO GBNFL members and CGECI and FUE members as well as other interested companies and business representative organizations in Africa

Meeting overview

In September 2022, the International Labour Organization (ILO), Walk Free, and International Organization for Migration will release new Global Estimates on Modern Slavery. The estimates provide important insights and impetus to the work of the private sector on eradication of forced labour. To present the latest figures, the ILO Global Business Network on Forced Labour (ILO GBNFL) and La Confédération Générale des Entreprises de Côte d'Ivoire (CGECI), and the Federation of Uganda Employers (FUE) are organizing an online briefing for interested companies and business representative organizations. The ILO GBNFL will also present key actions necessary for identifying, preventing, and addressing the ILO's 11 indicators of forced labour from its report on Eradicating forced labour: What works in practice.

Meeting objectives

- Present the latest Global Estimates on Modern Slavery
- Discuss the impact of the findings for private sector action
- Provide an overview of promising practices to address forced labour
